VOL. 4 NO. 2 JENKINTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA FALL 1981

PLANNING FOR MANOR'S FUTURE

At this, the beginning of a new academic year, Manor has undertaken, once again, the task of planning for the future growth and development of the college.

In order to accomplish this most effectively, a planning committee has been formed. The first meeting was held on October 19, 1981. The purpose of this meeting was to review the planning process with the expanded planning committee and to continue the task of comprehensive planning to advance Manor on its course into the future as a vital and vibrant institution of higher learning.

The planning committee is made up of the president's administrative council and representatives of Manor's major constituencies. The designated representatives are responsible for informing their constituencies about the planning effort. These representatives will be contacting members of their respective constituencies to get the benefit of their input and knowledge.

The planning committee membership is as follows: Administrative Council: Sister Anne, Librarian; Sister Anthony Ann, Dean of Admissions/Registrar; Sister Cecilia, Dean of Students; Sister Dia, Academic Dean; Anthony DelVecchio, Controller; John Shields, Director of Development/ Public Relations. The designated representatives include: Patricia Davis, student representative; Sally Mydlowec, alumni representative; Eileen Suffet, faculty representative; and Charles Stahlecker, representing the Board of Trustees. Sister Miriam Claire, President of Manor, is chairperson of the planning committee.

The first task of the planning committee is to review Manor's statement of philosophy, goals and objectives. Therefore, during the next few weeks the entire Manor community, including the Board of Trustees, the faculty, the students and the Alumni, will be invited to participate in reviewing Manor's philosophy. The findings of this review will then be taken up at the next planning meeting.

On October 12th, Manor had some distinguished visitors to the campus in the presence of Bishop Basil Losten, Archbishop of the Stamford Diocese, Cardinal Wladyslaw Rubin, Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of the Oriental Churches and Msgr. Renato Bruni, staff member of the Sacred Congregation. Pictured here are Sister Dia, Academic Dean of Manor, Bishop Losten, Sister Claire, President of Manor, Cardinal Rubin, Msgr. Bruni, and Sister Theodosia, Provincial of the Sacred Heart Province of the Sisters of Saint Basil.

TIPS ON YEAR-END TAX PLANNING

"Give now" is the special theme of most non-profit organizations this year. It's special this year because 1981 is the year that most people will get the greatest tax savings from a charitable contribution - thanks to the new tax cut package in the TAX ACT OF '81. Some tax advisors have even recommended giving double your normal amount this year - before December 31st 1981, to get the maximum benefit. The fact is, that income tax rates for 1982 will be lower than the rates for 1981, and they will be lower still in 1983. Therefore, this means that the best year for most people to make a major gift to Manor is 1981 - when the tax savings from a charitable contribution will be at a peak. Ask your attorney or tax advisor.

For further details about the TAX ACT OF '81 and how you can make the best plans for you, your family and Manor, call or write John Shields, Director of Development and Public Relations, Manor College, Fox Chase & Forrest Avenues, Jenkintown, Pennsylvania 19046. (215) 885-2360.

A performance by the Volosky Dance Ensemble, Philadelphia, catches the rapt attention of the audience at Manor's Ukrainian Festival, held on September 20th, 1981.

NEW FACES ON CAMPUS

Manor's new Continuing Education Staff, Nancy Brown, director; Jeanette Bagdon, secretary and Rosemarie Vickery, Coordinator, take time out from their busy day to pose for a picture.

There have been many changes at Manor this year. There are some new faces and some old ones in new places. The biggest change occured in our Continuing Education Department, where we have a whole new staff. The new director is Nancy Brown, formerly Admissions Counselor at Manor. Nancy was promoted to director in July and has brought many new ideas and plans with her. Nancy was a "Magna Cum Laude" graduate from Temple, with a B.A. in Sociology. Before coming to Manor in 1980, she worked at Temple University for two years as an instructor, student affairs coordinator and training consultant.

Rosemarie Vickery, the new Coordinator for the Continuing Education Office, has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration from the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science. Prior to returning to college Rosemarie was a Staff Nurse in the operating room at Chestnut Hill Hospital.

To complete the new Continuing Ed Staff, Jeanette Bagdon began working as the secretary in September. Jeanette is planning to combine her secretarial duties with college courses in the near future. Jeanette resides with her husband Walter and their three daughters in Maple Glen.

Congratulations to Jean Drach on her promotion to Office Coordinator of the Expanded Functions Dental Assisting Program and the Manor Dental Health Center. Jean, who has been working at Manor for six years, is attending classes at Manor part-time and hopes to receive her associate degree in the near future. Jean and husband John, live in Cheltenham with children, John Jr. and Patty.

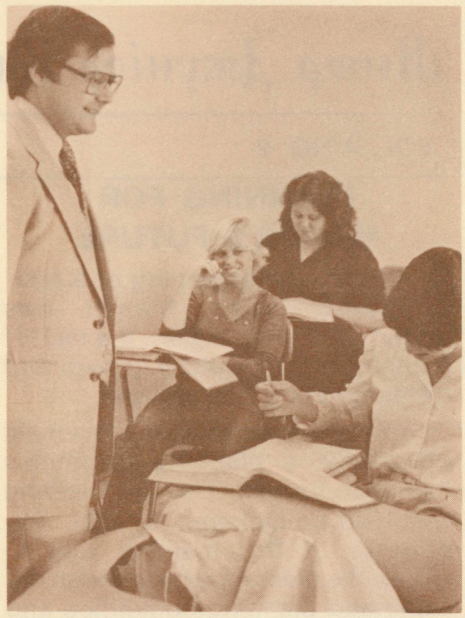
The Admissions' office has a new counselor, Claire Reidy, a graduate of Cardinal Dougherty High School and Penn State University. Claire received her B.S. in Criminal Justice and Administration in 1976 and is currently working towards her Masters Degree in Public Administration. She has spent the last six years working with children, in the Philadelphia area and in Tuscon, Arizona.

The new secretary to the Academic Dean is Mary Beahan, a graduate of Abington High School and Millersville State College. Mary lives with her parents and six brothers and one sister in Abington and is continuing her education at Beaver College, where she hopes to receive her Master's in education.

Genevieve Stelling, instructor for the new Word Processing course being offered at Manor.

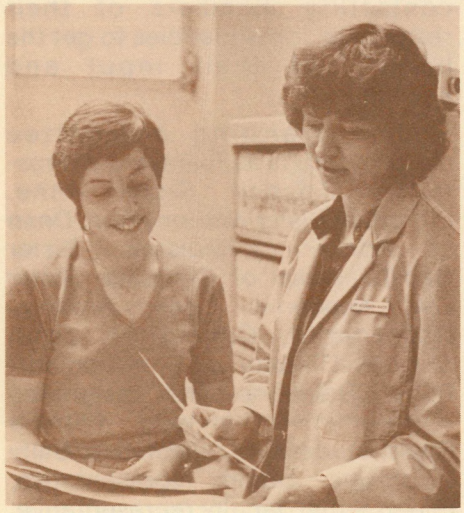
Genevieve Stelling's background, which includes a Master's in education from Trenton State College and sixteen years teaching, the last ten of which were in Business at Community College of Philadelphia makes her exceedingly qualified to teach Word Processing, a new course being offered at Manor in the Associate Degree program. Gen, and her husband Robert, live in Riverton, New Jersey with their seven month old daughter, Lauren.

Sister Dia announced several new appointments at Manor for the 1981-82 academic year. Dr. Madeline Seltzer, English instructor has been appointed acting chairperson of the Liberal Arts Division. Eileen Suffet, Director of the Expanded Function, Dental Assisting Program since 1975, is now also chairperson of the Allied Health Division. John Stahura, Biology and Anatomy instructor has been appointed chairperson of the Science and Mathematics Division. Dr. John Tate, new at Manor this year, is the chairperson of the Business Division.



Dr. John Tate, the new chairperson of the Business Division conducts a class in Business Administration.

The Dental Health Center has recently acquired two new members: Dr. David H. Reiss, clinical practitioner and Myrna Pressman, receptionist and business manager. Interestingly, Dr. Reiss and Myrna attended Penn State University together and were surprised when their careers brought both of them to Manor.



Myrna Pressman, Office Manager, Dental Health Center & Dr. Alexandra Baker, Clinical Coordinator of the Center, ready to start a new day at Manor's Dental Center, located on campus, and open to the public.

The first task for the senate officers will be to determine the student's role in the planning process at Manor.

. . .On February 3, 1982, Manor is sponsoring its 5th annual EXPANDED FUNCTIONS SEMINAR AND EXTERNSHIP. If any of the dentists for whom you work would like to participate in this Seminar and Externship, please give Jean Drach a call and let her know. We welcome new participants.

. . .The Continuing Education Office at Manor recently hosted a "COFFEE HOUR" for both the part-time day and evening students. This social event afforded the adult student an opportunity to meet their fellow classmates and to chat informally with faculty and staff.

Nancy Brown, director, spoke briefly about the future plans for Continuing Education which include the monthly publication of a newsletter and additional support services for the returning student.

Mary Lou Delizia, counselor at Manor, invited all of the students to participate in individual or group study skills sessions. She also spoke briefly about workshops that are run in conjunction with the Continuing Education Office in January. These include sessions in time management, assertiveness training and communication skills.

A total of over 80 students plus numerous faculty and staff attended the "Coffee Hours". The Continuing Ed Office staff was quite pleased by the response and felt that the events were a huge success.

. . .A Continuing Education Club is also in the development stage. Hopefully, the group will be instrumental in helping new Continuing Ed students in the "back to school" transition.

MEDICAL CLUB VISITS FOX CHASE CANCER CENTER

Members of the Medical Club at Manor were introduced to the activities of a research laboratory when they visited the laboratory of Dr. Irving Millman at the Fox Chase Cancer Institute.

The presentations by Dr. Millman and Mrs. Anna O'Connell about her research concerning the relationship between hepatitis and cancer of the liver were of much interest to the students.

The students also had the facinating opportunity to view a virus under an electron microscope. Viruses cannot be seen with the optical microscopes generally used in laboratories. An electron microscope has the magnification power of 100,000 times the actual size of the virus. Ms. Sally Shepardson explained the principles of an electron microscope and permitted each member of the group to view the intricate structures of a virus.

Future activities sponsored by the Manor Junior College Medical Club include a demonstration entitled "Grooming for a Professional Office" to be held in November and a seminar on "Your Career as a Medical Assistant" to be held December 3rd. The seminar will be conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Saffier and Miss Eileen Quigg, Medical Assistants. Other scheduled events include a seminar on "Job Hunting Skills" in January and, in March, a lecture entitled "The Philadelphia Department of Health" by Dr. Henry Beilstein, Director of the Medical Laboratory Technology program at Manor and by a guest speaker from the Philadelphia County Medical Examiners Office.

The Medical Club, under the direction of Mrs. Marion Samuels, visits the Fox Chase Cancer Center in October.

The members of the Medical Club are comprised of students from the Medical Assisting and Medical Laboratory Technology Programs. These two-year programs at Manor lead to an associate degree.

Members of MJC Campus Ministry were busy this month, selling candy bars. The funds raised will be donated to charity. Jo-Ann Erb, far right, presents a check to Donna Yates, representing the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Other members of the Campus Ministry, who helped with the sale look on.

MJC VOLLEYBALL A WINNING TEAM

The MJC Volleyball program has truly arrived and is a team to be recognized in the league. This fall Manor won full matches against Harcum Junior College, Academy of the New Church and Neumann College. Manor also won games against Penn State and Delaware Valley College. The dedication of such girls as Maria Fernandez and Marguerite Roth combined with the talents of Freshman Sonia Waskin, Beth Ehasu, Maureen Clemmer and Karen Rocchi made our record for the year a convincing one.

The above mentioned wins were made easier thanks to veteran players such as Eileen Frey, Tina Capozzoli and Maria Addison. All of these skills combined with the leadership and multi talents of team captain Susan Schleiga made this season a successful one. They are a bright and upcoming team who look forward to taking yet another step forward next year towards the league championship.

Angie Scarengelli, Manor's Sports Director, front right, poses with this year's basketball team. Angie's daughter, Theresa, is too short for the team this year, but hopes to be a member in about fifteen years.

THE 1981 TENNIS SEASON

The 1981 Fall tennis season at MJC proved to be an exciting year. The tennis team was able to score individual set wins over such colleges as Cheyney State, Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, and Gwynedd Mercy College. The PAIAW tournament sponsored by Chestnut Hill college resulted in Manor placing fifth in the rankings.

A strong interest in tennis among this year's freshmen including Sherry Kline, Peg Ryan, Susanne Somers, Harolyn Travis and Renee Witowski, helped to ease the loss of our top senior players from last year. MJC was well represented for the past two years by Mary Beth Lindinger, Annette Tranchitella and Barbara Palage, who match after match, displayed team spirit and desire to challenge the opposition.

Ostap Lewyckyj discusses the day's duties with Maintenance Superintendent, Dan Kaleta.

Registration week was held the week of August 24th. Manor had a record enrollment this year with 139 freshmen students and 82 sophomores enrolling for classes. The highest ever in the history of Manor for full-time enrollment. The Continuing Ed Department enrollment was 118.
